Sir:

In complete response to the outstanding Official Action issued on June 21, 2005, Applicants offer the following remarks.

In the Official Action, the Examiner has rejected claims 24-26 and 28 under 35 U.S.C. §102(b) as being anticipated by Brodkin et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,322,728).

For the following reasons, however, Applicants most respectfully traverse the Examiner's rejection.

Brodkin et al. does describe a method of making dental material by mixing a ceramic powder with a polymer and dispensing the mixture to build a form on a platform. The Examiner concludes that the method is anticipated because the Brodkin et al. reference "teaches the method steps." However, this is not believed to be the case.

Claim 24 specifically recites mixing ceramic powder and one or more media together to achieve homogeneity throughout the mixture. That homogeneous mixture is then dispensed onto a platform to form a dental material. The media
